Thank You for Your Presentation at the OGWA AGM

Hi Andrew,

On behalf of everyone at OGWA, I want to extend a sincere thank you for your presentation at our AGM on Saturday evening. Your engaging style, sharp insights, and well-placed drilling quips kept the audience captivated. It was evident that you took the time to tailor your message to our industry, and it resonated deeply with those in attendance.

Your thought-provoking approach left attendees with a distinct new outlook, sparking conversations that carried well beyond the evening. In an industry built on principles of sustainability, resource stewardship, and long-term planning, our members often grapple with the challenge of balancing economic pressures with the responsibility of protecting a vital resource—groundwater. Your insights encouraged our members to think critically about their roles as both professionals and guardians of an essential public good.

We truly appreciate the time and effort you put into delivering such a meaningful talk. Thanks again for sharing your expertise with us!

Best regards,
